

Make it easier for your authors to publish Open Access

Cambridge University Press has signed Read and Publish Agreements in over 30 countries, enabling authors from over 900 institutions to publish OA at no cost to them.

Provide your institution with access to high-quality, peer reviewed journals within the full collection.

Sustainably convert your institution's publishing to Gold OA with an agreement tailored to your publishing profile.

Support every step of the way, with promotion resources and training opportunities.
